

Bocconi

Donor Report 2021-2022

Reaching forward together

Dear Friends, First of all, we want to thank you for your trust and support.

Francesco Billari
Rector

Riccardo Taranto
Managing Director

This year, once again, you have not failed to sustain our Bocconi.

Your support is even more valuable in these uncertain times, full of increasingly pressing global challenges that force us to seek out new solutions, and often to question our present situation. Every day, health emergencies, climate change, international tensions and their repercussions remind us how important it is – now more than ever – to continue trusting in the transformative power of knowledge.

Bocconi's ongoing commitment to advancing the social sciences and frontier disciplines opens up opportunities for students and researchers, with the goal of making the future more sustainable, equitable and inclusive.

Thanks to the contributions of over 2,400 donors, our University has been able to guarantee €37 million in student funding for the 2021-2022 academic year: an especially remarkable result if we consider that this figure has grown by 48% over the last five years, bearing witness to an increasingly concrete and shared effort.

Today at Bocconi 1 in 4 students benefits from support through scholarships, tuition waivers and initiatives related to need, merit, diversity and inclusion. Your contribution to Faculty activities supports the work of no less than 24 Chairs, 2 Research Centers and 9 Research Laboratories engaged in cutting-edge projects with high social impact.

In this Donor Report, we give the floor to the testimonies of those who have directly benefited from your generosity, and to those who, like you, have seen in Bocconi the right partner to invest in the future.

We would like to express, on this occasion, our due thanks to Gianmario Verona, Rector in office from 2016 to 2022, who together with his team was committed to achieving these excellent results in such complex years.

We are counting on you to take on ambitious new challenges and goals together, strengthening that pact between generations that must never be interrupted: investing in young people, accessible knowledge for everyone and advanced research in the social sciences is the only way to build a better society, where merit, equity and talent inspire the choices of tomorrow.

Thank you!

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

Investing in young people, our idea of the future

Supporting bright, motivated students and guaranteeing them a valuable educational path, regardless of their social and economic backgrounds, is the most powerful tool for contributing to the development of a more equitable, sustainable and inclusive society. Today at Bocconi, 1 in 4 students receives financial support. And thanks to our Donors, we can do even more.

Promoting social mobility and inclusion

Named Scholarship Funds

In an era characterized by challenges and complexity, universities play a key role in promoting inclusion, diversity and gender equality. Starting from their ability to welcome, integrate and accompany talented young people in their studies, regardless of socio-economic status or geographical origin. Many Bocconi Donors and Partners, aware of the concrete impact of this gesture, have chosen to invest in the education of new generations, with particular attention to the theme of inclusion and gender equality.

Thanks to the support of Donors, 154 students began their adventure at Bocconi in the 2021-2022 academic year, among them 45 women students. For the academic years to come, funds have already been raised for scholarships for more than 80 women. That number is destined to increase, also thanks to the establishment of Named Scholarships by companies, foundations and institutions to support students, which make it possible to support a large number of students over a two-year period.

To date, there are 14 active Named Scholarship Funds and over 120 students who, thanks to this support, have been able to and will be able to complete their studies in the coming years. Donors who have chosen this method of support include: Ceresio Investors - Famiglia Foglia, eBay, Fondazione Dompè, Fondazione Romeo ed Enrica Invernizzi, Generali, ION Foundation, Istituto Javotte Bocconi, Kaleyra, Mastercard, Only the Brave Foundation, Pirelli, Pirola Pennuto Zei & Associati and Tod's.

Giving Forward: supporting the next generation through a corporate matching-gift program

Today's students are tomorrow's citizens and supporting them in their university career – through tuition waivers and scholarships – is a far-sighted investment in the future. Bocconi is aware of this, deploying as a university an articulated system of financial aid, and so are Alumni and Donors who believe in the importance of supporting the new generations and in the value of giving back.

Students supported by Bocconi Donors include the recipients of a special group of Alumni and individuals who share a career path at Goldman Sachs and have chosen to establish named scholarships through the company's philanthropic program, Goldman Sachs Gives.

In recent years, more and more Donors have amplified the impact of their philanthropic gesture through this program, changing the lives of more than 20 young talents, who thanks to their support have embarked on a course of study, receiving confidence as well as important financial aid.

BEING A RECIPIENT OF A NAMED SCHOLARSHIP SPURS ME TO ALWAYS DO MY BEST AND TAKE EVERY OPPORTUNITY THAT COMES MY WAY. SUCH A GIFT IS NOT ONLY IMPORTANT FOR MY PERSONAL FUTURE, BUT FOR THE EVOLUTION AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE VERY SOCIETY OF WHICH I AM A PART.

INCREASING KNOWLEDGE FOR A BETTER SOCIETY

Changing the world with social sciences

With projects dedicated to research and knowledge development it is possible to contribute concretely to global, sustainable and inclusive socio-economic evolution. Bocconi University, also thanks to the support of its Donors, explores with a multidisciplinary approach the frontiers of research on crucial topics such as technological evolution, artificial intelligence, computer sciences, environmental sustainability, social inequalities and gender equality, investing in human capital to create new opportunities for researchers and professors. Today at Bocconi there are 24 named Chairs and 11 Research Centers and Laboratories established thanks to Donors.

The evolution of the Algebris Chair in Long-Term Investment and Absolute Return

Algebris is an independent global asset management company, founded by Bocconi Alumnus Davide Serra (Business Administration, 1995), since 2017 supporter of the student support projects promoted by his Alma Mater.

In 2019, the Algebris Chair in Long-term Investment and Absolute Return was created on the basis of the close collaboration between Bocconi University and the company. It is held by Professor Stefano Caselli. Through the establishment of this Endowed Chair, Algebris and Bocconi have promoted impactful research covering the entire spectrum of long-term and absolute return investments, while supporting the education of a new generation of young and talented fund managers through an innovative annual training camp.

Established in 2019 as a term Chair, it was transformed into a permanent Chair in 2021 thanks to a donation to the Bocconi Endowment. This contribution will give continuity over time to the ambitious goal of the Algebris Chair: offering tools and knowledge to the new generations, to enable them to master long-term investments and have a permanent impact on global growth. The new Endowed Chair was inaugurated on 10 May 2022 at a Lectio Inauguralis open to the public.

Innovative and multidisciplinary research: Research Laboratories

"Knowledge that matters" means giving concrete answers to the challenges of the future, through the development of social sciences. A goal pursued through constant investment in basic and applied research, a strong focus on interdisciplinarity and the integration of new competencies, and with an eye on frontier areas such as sustainability, inclusion and diversity. In this context, philanthropy plays a crucial role.

Donor support can, in fact, decisively stimulate multidisciplinary research in these highly topical areas, particularly through the establishment and funding of Research Laboratories. The Laboratories bring together a team of researchers with diversified skills and, thanks to a multidisciplinary and knowledge integration-oriented approach, they actively contribute to the advancement of knowledge in specific fields, guaranteeing visibility and scientific depth to the issues under investigation.

At Bocconi, there are currently 9 active Laboratories set up thanks to a donation, and 2 Named Research Centers.

BUILDING A NEW VISION OF THE FUTURE, TOGETHER

Enhancing the experience of living and studying at Bocconi

For a university, looking to the future means investing in the production and dissemination of knowledge, research and the training of new generations. In order to do so, it is necessary to combine vision and concreteness, promoting intense academic, cultural and social activities and providing the community with a lively and stimulating environment. With innovative initiatives and projects, developed in partnership with the university, donors can contribute to the evolution of the university environment and the development of campus spaces. Several projects are aimed at promoting inclusion and diversity, more than 10 works of art have been donated to the BAG - Bocconi Art Gallery and 44 spaces have been named within the University.

EDUCATION IS NOT JUST ESSENTIAL FOR ECONOMIC GROWTH AND PROGRESS, BUT IS A DRIVER OF SOCIAL MOBILITY AND A POWERFUL TOOL TO FIGHT INEQUALITY, WHILE PROMOTING CULTURAL INTEGRATION.

Natale Labia

Director, Fondazione Labia and MBA 45 Alumnus, 2020

A bridge between cultures to promote talent in South Africa

Lucio Labia, son of the first Italian ambassador to South Africa, was a forward-thinking economist who firmly believed in the role of education as a driver for growth and social mobility. That is why he established the Fondazione Labia in Cape Town, with the goal of providing support and real training opportunities to young South African talent without any economic resources..

When he passed away in 2016, his children Antonia and Natale Labia (MBA 45, 2020) took up his legacy and, as the new Directors of the Foundation, chose to give continuity to their father's philanthropic project, honoring his memory and the desire to strengthen the cultural link between Italy and South Africa.

A partnership between Bocconi University and Fondazione Labia was established on this basis. Through a comprehensive university orientation project aimed at young South African talents, it has begun to promote cultural progress in South Africa and inclusion and social mobility within the University at the same time, starting from the 2021-2022 academic year.

Thanks to the support of the Fondazione Labia, in fact, each year a group of South African students from disadvantaged backgrounds will have the opportunity to participate in the admissions process and in the Bocconi Summer School, thus beginning a new adventure that will transform their lives and open new opportunities for growth and education.

Naming a space at Bocconi

Life on campus is an integral part of the university experience. Its buildings and spaces are an expression of Bocconi's vision: innovative, sustainable and cutting-edge.

The University's facilities are available to the community: they host academic activities, cultural, sporting and social events and are open to Milan and they are an integral part of the city's artistic and intellectual life.

Naming a space at Bocconi, be it in the historical buildings or in the new SDA Bocconi School of Management building, is a personal choice with a positive impact on the community. Donors who provide this philanthropic support make a valuable gesture, which allows them to associate their own name – or that of a loved one – with a symbolic place at the University.

The naming of a space – 44 are currently named – contributes to the growth of individuals and the community.

The naming of room 527 of the historic Residence Hall at Via Bocconi 12 in memory of Alberto Baroli (Business Administration, 1989)

SOLIDARITY BETWEEN GENERATIONS

Projects supported by the Bocconi Community

Hand in hand with the growth of our University in terms of facilities, educational offer and international reputation, the Bocconi community is also growing and evolving. It starts with the Bocconi Alumni Community, which is constantly adding new initiatives, services, and opportunities for networking and human and professional growth, and passes through the ever-growing group of supporters of the University's philanthropic projects, to the commitment of students toward other Bocconi students like themselves.

Between 2021 and 2022, 2,300 individuals have chosen to support young people and the advancement of knowledge at Bocconi. 77% of them are Alumni, bearing witness to the very strong bond that unites all generations of Bocconians to their Alma Mater.

Filling a gap
by filling it with the future:
memorial collections.

The passing of a loved one, a partner or a friend and colleague deeply affects those closest to them and the community where they lived and grew up. These are losses that create a void - a void that can in part be filled through a gesture of altruism and solidarity toward the future.

It is with this spirit that the fundraising campaigns ad memoriam were designed, aimed at creating tuition waivers and scholarships capable of remembering and transmitting to the new generations the values of those who are no longer with us, while offering an opportunity for fulfilment and growth to young people who have merit and talent, but sometimes lack means.

Between 2021 and 2022, Bocconi University has promoted in particular four campaigns aimed at supporting new generations in memory of Alumni and friends close to the University:

- The fundraising campaign in memory of Luca Attanasio (Business Administration, 2001).
- The fundraising campaign in memory of Luca Felli (Economics, 1991).
- The fundraising campaign in memory of Maya Yazbeck.
- The fundraising campaign in memory of Mario Buffo (MBA 35).
- The fundraising campaign in memory of Alberto Alesina (Economic and Social Sciences, 1981).

Generosity and support between generations. Fundraising Campaigns promoted by Bocconi Alumni groups and Student Associations Solidarity is at the basis of building a more inclusive and sustainable society. To contribute to change, it is essential to confidently invest in young people and their education.

Bocconi Alumni Community groups understand this, and in recent years have chosen to support future generations of students and Alumni in increasing numbers through Bocconi scholarship and waiver programs. But also the University's Student Associations, which are showing an increasing sensitivity and desire to promote fundraising activities to support colleagues and fellow students.

It's not giving back, it's giving forward: a far-sighted investment in young people and the future, which is an integral part of Bocconi's DNA and that of its community.

Among the particularly active groups in the Bocconi Alumni Community is the New York Chapter, since 2013 the headquarters of the American charity Friends of Bocconi University, which guarantees tax deductibility in the United States. The Chapter relaunched in 2021 its own fund to support Bocconi students - the NYC Chapter Fund - achieving an ambitious goal: the establishment of a named exemption, which starting from the academic year 2022/2023 is offering Carlo Cocozza the opportunity to continue his studies at Bocconi.

Among Student Associations, we would like to mention the commitment of JEME, the Junior Enterprise born at Bocconi, which generously contributed to the "Investing in the Future" collection in 2022.

WE ASKED OURSELVES HOW WE COULD IMPROVE THE LIVES OF BOCCONI STUDENTS USING THE STRENGTH OF OUR NETWORK. FOR THIS REASON, WE SET OURSELVES THE GOAL OF COLLECTING A SCHOLARSHIP FOR A DESERVING STUDENT SO THAT THEY COULD CONTINUE THEIR PATH AT BOCCONI.
